

young - cheeky - raw - authentic - soulful - versatile

When the 19-year-old singer and frontman Ronny Rast, smartly dressed in a red suit, takes to the stage and hits the strings, he tells the story of blues rock in his own vocabulary.

His music is versatile, authentic, raw and soulful at the same time. He skillfully packs life situations into his songs and the audience is fascinated by the refreshing style of the “young face for good music”.

Even as a child, impressed by the forefathers of American blues music and the numerous great musicians of the mid-60s "British invasion", this kind of music stuck in the soul of this exceptional talent.

As much as the very young Swiss guitarist and multi-instrumentalist loves the roots of blues music, he effortlessly manages to experiment with contemporary stylistic approaches, surprising and captivating audiences time and time again.

The debut EP of the talented musician Rast, which is produced by Marco Jencarelli (Soundfarm Studios and former guitarist with Philipp Fankhauser), is expected to be released in spring 2025.
